Klan-Leading Cleric Faces Indictment in Indian Fuss

LUMBERTON, N. C. (AP)—Sheriff Malcolm McLeod says he will ask a grand jury today to indict a Ku Klux Klan leader who had his rally shot out from under him by whooping Indians.

The Robeson County law officer said he wanted charges of inciting to riot brought against the Rev. James Cole of Marion, S. C., self-styled KKK leader of groups in both Carolinas.

Rev. Mr. Cole, claiming he was denied his rights under the law because he is a member of the white race, at one time planned legal action against the sheriff, also a white man.

But later, Rev. Mr. Cole said the Klan should turn the other cheek as far as further action may be considered.

"Being Christian is our job and we should turn the other cheek even when offended," he said.

Rev. Mr. Cole's rally near here Saturday night ended with Klansmen and spectators scrambling for safety as hooting Indians emptied rifles, shotguns and pistols into the meeting field.

The Indians were outraged by reports the Klan intended to warn them against race mixing.

Anti-Horse Thief Group Still Alive

WEST UNION (AP)—The Anti-Horse Thief Society in nearby Bentonville still stands ready to do its duty after more than a century of service.

But its captain, Lloyd Roush, admits most of the excitement went out of the society's job when the horseless carriage came in. Gone are the days when society riders answered the alarm to track some lowdown hoss thief.

The society has kept its name, but its duties today are confined mainly to tracing historical information about Adams County and preserving it as one of the most authentic and complete accounts of the area.

Organized in 1856 for obvious reasons, the society was incorporated in 1880. It meets regularly once each January to elect officers and to hear reports. Any other meetings must be called.

The society has resisted change through the years, maintaining its original number of officers, trustees and riders, as the general membership is known. Its new president is Charles S. Kirker of West Union. Mrs. Eldon Roush was admitted as the first woman rider. She is the society's publicity chairman.

Townsend Aide Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—Harrison N. Hiles, 82, retired secretary of the Townsend National Insurance Plan which called for a government $200-a-month pension for all citizens over 65, died Saturday.

Elaborate Precautions Fail To Halt Raid on Speakeasy

CLEVELAND (AP)—Elaborate precautions which kept a speakeasy operating back in Prohibition days don't work nearly so well in modern-day Cleveland.

A plush after-hours speakeasy concealed behind a panel in the kitchen of a pizzeria was raided at 3 a.m. Sunday by state liquor agents and police.

Three persons were arrested, one escaped out a back entrance and 15 patrons were routed. Two "patrons" who remained were a policeman and a liquor agent. They had provided sketches of the layout after an undercover visit the day before.

When the raiders started banging and kicking on the false panel someone inside the joint yelled: "Dump everything!"

The drinks held by Policewoman Irene Such and the unidentified liquor agent were the only ones which were not tossed onto the new carpeting. The drinks were saved for evidence. The speakeasy behind Capri's pizzeria had been operating only a week, police said.

A MAN KNOWN only as "Tony" stashed all the liquor bottles in a cardboard box and beat it through a rear door which led to a flight of basement steps.

The agents inside slipped a bolt and by the fact that two KKK crosses were burned near Indian homes during the preceding week.

"We were meeting on private property we had leased when these Indians invaded us, shot us up and stole our equipment," Rev. Mr. Cole said Sunday night.

"Now I hear the sheriff wants to indict me and other Klansmen for inciting a riot, but he's not going to do anything about the Indians. I asked for police protection before this started and I was refused."

"I'm being denied my rights because of my race."

Sheriff McLeod said "I'm glad it's over. Feelings had been running high. I'm glad we got out without fatalities."

Although Indians poured bullets for 10 minutes into a field where people milled in pitch darkness, only four men were wounded, none seriously.

Simeon Oxendine, son of the mayor of the Indian community of Pembroke, proudly wrapped himself in a captured KKK banner and winked at newsmen.

Oxendine said he had attended a previous Klan meeting in the Lumberton area where Rev. Mr. Cole stood in the middle of a Negro section and said "some awful things about the Negroes." Said the young Indian:

"The Negroes should have done something about this. 'I told the boys to take it easy. Slap 'em around a little, if you have to, I told them, but don't hurt 'em. The Klansmen were begging us to let them out of there. They won't come back. There'll be bloodshed if they do.'"

There are about 40,000 white people, 30,000 Indians and 25,000 Negroes in Robeson County.

Race relations in Robeson have been generally peaceful. But Indians were aroused last week by the cross burnings. One was in front of the home of an Indian woman who reportedly was dating a white married man. The other was burned in a white neighborhood where an Indian family had occupied a house.

Cars began gathering around the Klan field almost two hours before speeches were due to begin at 8 p. m. Men with guns prowled the road. Unrobed Klansmen, cradling shotguns in their arms, directed cars into the field.

A single bulb lighted a microphone. Suddenly an Indian smashed the bulb with his rifle barrel. "Start shootin' boys!" a voice cried.

Gunfire crashed. The crowd scattered. Sheriff McLeod and two deputies hurried tear gas.

In about 10 minutes state highway patrolmen arrived. They cleared the field and escorted Klan cars through the jeering Indians. There were an estimated 50 Klansmen at the rally.

Guatemala Poll Results Still Not Decided

GUATEMALA (AP)—Candidates of the right and left were leading today in first returns from the presidential election in this one-time Communist beachhead of the Western Hemisphere. But the outcome of Sunday's voting was not expected to be known until late this week.

Provisional President Guillermo Flores Avendano said no matter who won, the danger of Communist influence in Guatemala probably is less than in the U. S.

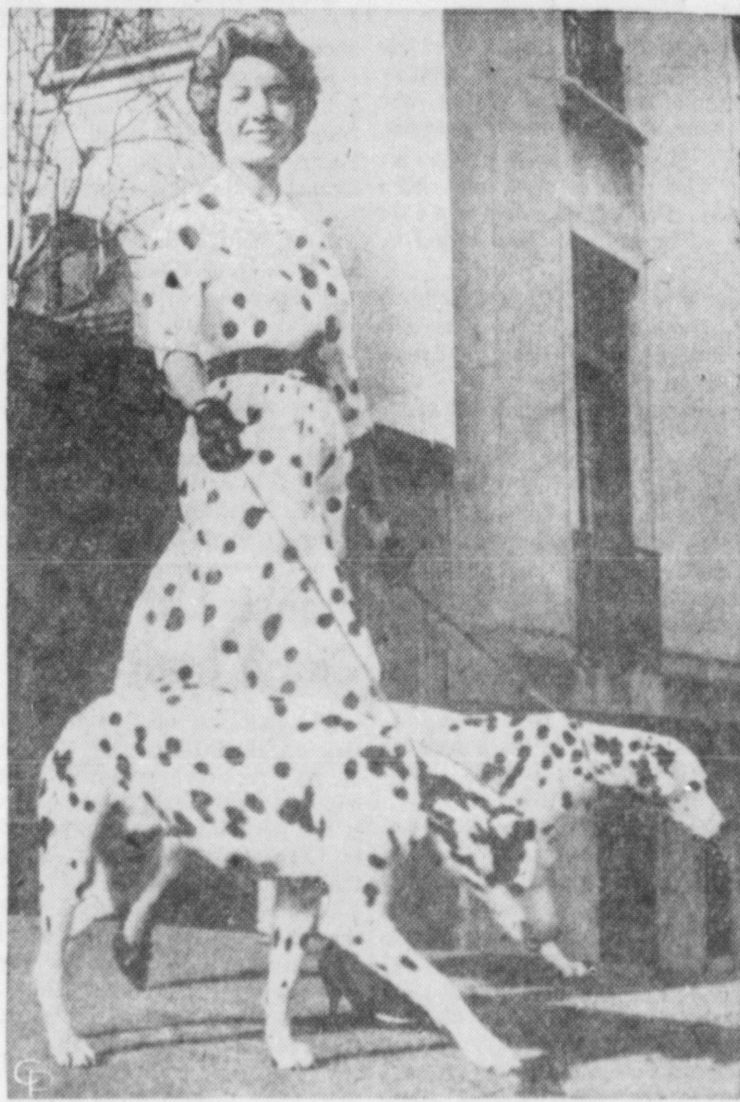

Unofficial returns from 94 of Guatemala City's 183 polling places gave 18,393 votes to Gen. Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes, 62-year-old veteran right-wing aspirant, and 18,811 to Mario Mendez Montenegro, 47, of the leftist Revolutionary Party.

Col. Jose Luis Cruz Salazar, 38-year-old middle-of-the-roader backed by the late President Carlos Castillo Armas' Democratic Nationalist Movement had 6,861 votes. Col. Enrique Ardon trailed far behind with 457.

Ydigoras had been expected to score heavily in the capital, but returns from rural districts could change the trend. Ydigoras carried the city in the Oct. 20 presidential election which was voided after the general's supporters staged bloody riots protesting proclamation of a government candidate as the winner.

As he had in the last election, Ydigoras charged fraud in some rural districts.

Precautions taken to disguise the operation included a vacant store next to the pizzeria. Boxes were piled in front of the dusty windows. Behind the boxes was a paneled wall, actually one wall of the speakeasy.

First of Series On Filing Income Tax Begins Today

With April 15 looming up once more, the American taxpayer is preparing again to cope with the annual bad dream called filing a federal income tax return.

Eight especially-written articles have been prepared to make that task as easy and profitable as possible. The first of the series appears today in this newspaper.

Written by G. K. Hodenfield, reporter for the Associated Press, all of the articles have been checked by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service to make sure they correctly interpret the income tax laws.

Read the first of the series today on Page 5.

Man in Jail Plans Race For Assembly

COLUMBUS (AP)—James Maxwell Jr., 32-year-old attorney from suburban Whitehall, Sunday announced from city prison that he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination to the Ohio House of Representatives.

Maxwell was released later on his own bond but will appear today in municipal court on charges filed by A. E. Anderson, enforcement chief for the city tax division. He was cited for non-payment of the Columbus one per cent city income tax during his employment in the statehouse from May 16, 1956, to July 31, 1957.

The action came two days after Maxwell, who was arrested Sunday at his home, had filed a suit in common pleas court contending that persons living outside the city and employed at the state capital are exempt from the tax. He said the capital building and its offices technically are not within the bounds of the city.

The former attorney-examiner for Secretary of State Ted W. Brown said he would run for state representative, if nominated, on a two-plank platform:

"I want to get cities out of this income tax business and I want to introduce legislation prohibiting the indiscriminate use of cognovit notes by business enterprises."

Airport Operator Loses 3 Fingers

The proprietor of the Sabina Airport, lost three fingers as a result of an accident Sunday when his hand became entangled in the propeller of a light plane.

Richard Williams, 42, of Sabina, who, with his wife, operates the private airport, was described as in "good condition at Memorial Hospital" here Monday, after a physician amputated the middle, ring and little fingers of his right hand. Williams is right-handed.

Williams had just started the propeller of a two-seater Champ plane when he slipped in the snow and thrust his hand into the whirling blade.

Pacific Hunt Widened; SOS Signals Checked

GUAM (AP)—SOS signals caused the Air Force to widen the search area to 50,000 square miles today in a hunt for a B50 weather plane that vanished in a typhoon.

The signals were monitored Sunday from the area 600 miles west of Guam where the plane with 10 crewmen aboard disappeared Tuesday. The faint signals were heard in Guam, Hawaii, Anchorage and Adak.

The Air Force was having trouble pin pointing the signals.

Rate Hike Request To Include Betterments

Rural-Suburban Phone Improvements Forecast

What was described as a "more liberal rate treatment for subscribers in the rural and suburban sections of the Washington C. H. area" will be proposed by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. in its forthcoming rate application to the Ohio Public Utilities Commission.

Paul Dougherty, Washington C. H. area commercial manager, said Monday morning that, while the company is not able at this time to give full details of its application, increases will be sought in the basic monthly rates for telephone service.

Liberalization for rural and suburban subscribers in two ways was cited by Dougherty: (1) Extra mileage charges would be discontinued and (2) The company proposes to establish either one, or two, rate zones.

Dougherty explained that subscribers located beyond the base rate area (greater Washington C. H.), and desiring a better grade of service, have been charged a higher rate differential, or a monthly mileage charge for one, two and four-party lines. This rate is based on the distance the subscriber is located from the base rate area.

With the discontinuance of the mileage, Dougherty explained that service would be furnished to one, two and four-party lines at "slightly higher" rates that apply in the Washington C. H. base rate area.

Dougherty said he anticipated the number of eight-party lines to be considerably reduced if the Utilities Commission approves the proposed schedule of charges.

DOUGHERTY gave these figures on subscribers now on eight-party lines: Washington C. H. exchange 1,020; Bloomingburg exchange 175; Jeffersonville exchange 242; Milledgeville exchange 128 and New Holland exchange 133. He explained that the more subscribers there are on a line the lower the rate.

Both of the changes proposed by the company "will simplify the rate treatment for subscribers in territory outside the base rate area," Dougherty said, pointing out that the base rate area is, generally speaking, Washington C. H., and that it is determined by the number of telephones. Some areas outside the city which are thickly

Dirty Hands Prove Downfall to Boys

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Police halted two boys, 11 and 8, and asked them what they were doing out at 4:10 a. m. They said they had a job scrubbing floors in a downtown hotel.

The skeptical officers checked, learned the two had been making nightly raids on a charity wishing well in the hotel basement. Explained one officer, "their hands were too dirty" for scrubbing floors.

Anti Negro Bomb Explosions Continue Tensions in South

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The South's racial tensions are continuing taut today with the reports of new anti-Negro bombings.

In Chattanooga, Tenn., Police Chief Ed Brown said today he is investigating a report that police received a telephoned threat that the all-Negro Howard School would be blown up but apparently chalked it off as work of a prankster.

The school was hit by a mysteriously set explosion early Sunday which caused an estimated $1,000 damage.

The threat, which Brown said he knew nothing about, was reported in the Chattanooga Times as being made Saturday. The newspaper said police apparently ignored the threat, regarding it as coming from a crank or prankster.

The threat was based on the appearance of Howard School pupils on a dance and record program on a TV station here a short time earlier, the paper said.

BROWN SAID the blast was caused by a homemade bomb, which possibly was constructed by placing dynamite inside a piece of metal pipe. Brown said many metal splinters were found at the scene.

The explosion was the latest in a recent series of incidents of violence in Negro-populated sections of Chattanooga and Hamilton County. A Negro home has been damaged by dynamite, a vacant house in a racially mixed area has burned, and a dynamite blast tore a hole in a field near a Negro section.

In Tulsa, Okla., a bomb exploded Sunday night in the front yard of a Negro family which recently moved into a predominantly white neighborhood.

There were no injuries. John Gamble, 44-year-old service station operator in whose yard the bomb exploded, said he did not believe it was racially inspired. He added:

"We've had no trouble with anyone. There haven't been any threats or any trouble."

Negro families live next door and across the street, Gamble said, while a Negro neighborhood is about two blocks away.

Gamble was at his service station and his wife was at church at the time of the blast.

42-Point Plan Is Submitted To Congress

Chief Says Nation Can Lick Recession During Current Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the country can lick the recession this year, pay in full the cost of meeting Russia's new challenge, and go forward to "real economic growth without inflation."

His economic report, third and last of the annual White House messages to Congress, carried a 42-point program of home-front legislation. Most of the requests were familiar, but Eisenhower said they are now "urgent."

He pledged that his policies will be shaped to foster the earliest possible business recovery. But he

Here's Economic Picture at Glance

WASHINGTON (AP)—In his annual economic report to Congress, President Eisenhower said today:

Production has dipped sharply from summer's all-time high. Defense spending will help bring a pickup this year.

The country "can afford to pay" whatever it costs to meet the Russian challenge.

Steepest wage-price boosts can hurt buying, delay recovery.

gave no hint that the administration is considering any such strong medicine as tax cuts, public works or deliberate deficits, and avoided even the words "recession" or "depression."

Eisenhower disclosed that the slump began sooner and hit harder than officials had expected. In the last three months national production dropped $6 billion, or 1½ per cent, he said, from the record rate of $439 billion a year in the previous quarter.

HE UNDERScored this warning: If "unwarranted" wage and price increases emerge from this spring's bargaining, the prospective recovery could be delayed.

"The latest challenge of international communism will require a further increase in the economic claims of national security which are already heavy," Eisenhower said.

"If we follow suitable private and public policies, this challenge can be met without distorting our economy, or destroying the freedoms that we cherish."

"Whatever our national security requires, our economy can provide and we can afford to pay."

The economic-stimulating effect of enlarged defense spending already is being felt, Eisenhower reported, and the October reversal of the government's anti-inflation policy has noticeably liberalized credit and cut the costs of borrowing.

Scientist Urging Use of Red Data

WASHINGTON (AP)—An American scientist proposed today that the United States advance its own research by making greater use of discoveries by the Russians.

The scientist, Dr. Lloyd V. Berkner, president of Associated Universities Inc., which carries on research projects, criticized what he said was inadequate government dissemination of science data. He called for a wide range of federal moves to step up the flow of important information.

While U. S. translations of Soviet science writings generally lag, he added, federal bureaus have been stamping secret some public Russian articles they do translate. One Soviet paper wound up being translated seven times by different groups, he said.

Navy Program Adequacy Gets Eye by Probers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate preparedness subcommittee looks into the adequacy of the Navy's submarine and missile programs today as it opens the final week of its current phase of hearings.

Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations, and Rear Adm. W. F. Raborn, who is supervising development of the Navy's Polaris missile, were among witnesses called for testimony.

While Congress members argued variously that more money, more clearly defined authority and more creative thinking are needed to spur United States defenses against Russian scientific gains, the weekend brought these developments:

1. Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.) said Senate Democrats are considering a $2 billion package proposal to increase appropriations for long-range jet bombers, both intermediate and medium range ballistic missiles, and missile-firing submarines.

2. SENS. HUMPHREY (D-Minn.) and McClellan (D-Ark.) prepared a bill to establish a cabinet-level department of science and technology, to include the Atomic Energy Commission, National Science Foundation, Bureau of Standards, Patent Office and other agencies. The bill also would authorize $380 million of direct government loans for scientific scholarships and government insurance of another $1 billion of private loans for college and graduate students.

3. Pending establishment of its Advanced Research Projects Agency, the Defense Department ordered Missiles Director William Holaday to coordinate development of devices to detect and destroy enemy missiles.

4. The magazine Aviation Week predicted the Air Force would attempt "within the next few months" to send a payload rocket to the moon.

It also said the Army will test nuclear explosions up to 50 miles above the earth in experiments this summer in the mid-Pacific testing grounds. There was no official confirmation of either report.

5. Dr. Ralph Swann, an Army rocket fuel expert at Huntsville, Ala., disclosed that in laboratory tests, solid fuels for rockets are showing almost as much thrust as liquid fuels. Four major scientific breakthroughs in four years have aided the solid fuel development, opening the way to eventual factory production of ballistic missiles which can be shipped ready to fire.

JACKSON SAID the senatorial package proposal is tentative and not yet cleared by Democratic leaders. Much of the actual spending increase would come in later years, he said, with the aim being to make funds available for long range projects.

But one of the objectives would be to keep up production of long-range bombers while missiles are being perfected.

Sen. Stennis (D-Miss.), vice chairman of the Senate Preparedness subcommittee, agreed with Jackson that a $2 billion increase "wouldn't be out of line."

Sen. Ellender (D-La.) said he will oppose any "blank check" approach to the missile problem, and called for better organization within the Defense Department.

Man, 88, Hit By Truck on Route 70 North

Condition 'Good'; Four Additional Accidents Reported

An 88-year-old man was hospitalized Sunday after he was hit by a truck on Route 70 at Clyburn Rd., just north of city limits.

Andrew Null, of N. North St., was reported in "good" condition Monday. He sustained hand cuts and a major laceration of the right leg.

The truck driver, Roger He-coax, 20, of New Holland, said Null stepped into the vehicle's path. He-coax swerved across the road, but Null apparently walked into the side of the vehicle, and was thrown down onto the highway.

He-coax was not charged.

FOUR OTHER accidents were reported to authorities here over the weekend.

Paul Dana Smith, 60, of 906 S. Main St., paid a $20 fine in Municipal Court after he pleaded guilty to a charge of running a stop sign, filed in connection with one of them.

Smith said he was headed west on Paint St. about 8:25 a. m. Monday when he mishap occurred. He said he ran past the stop sign at Hinde St. and started to skid.

His auto hit the front end of a southbound car driven by Walter Rettig, 51, of 919 Briar Ave. It caromed off Rettig's car, twisted around, and hit a car driven by Charles H. Sheridan, 31, of 561 Leesburg Ave.

Sheridan's car was 150 feet further west on Paint St., headed the opposite direction. He told police he stopped when he "saw there was going to be an accident."

Police estimated that about $250 worth of damage had been done to Sheridan's car and to Rettig's and about $275 to Smith's.

A CAR driven by Artis D. Sloane, 28, of Dayton, ran through a fence on Route 35, about three miles south, at 3 p. m. Saturday. After running through the field about 25 yards, the car swerved back and hit the fence again, coming to rest there.

Sloane was charged with reckless driving and will appear in court here later.

Robert J. Adams, 62, of Germantown, told police he was turning off Court St. into an alley west of Hinde St. about 12:40 p. m. Saturday when his car was involved in a collision.

Driver of the other car involved, Margene M. Ross, 23, of Rain-boro, said she was backing out of a Court St. parking place and didn't notice Adams pulling into the alley behind her.

DAMAGE was slight in an accident about 7:45 a. m. Monday at Elm and North Sts. Alfred M. Hidy, 35, of 320 Sixth St., told police he was headed north on Elm St. and did not see a car crossing in front of him on North St.

The car was driven by Theodore Vincent, 53, of 1552 Washington Ave.

Fuchs Planning To Continue Polar Trek

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP)—Dr. Vivian Fuchs and his British ground team reached the South Pole today and announced they firmly intend to press on to the other side of Antarctica.

Tough and fit despite their grueling 57-day trek across more than 900 miles of snow and ice, the British explorer said he would go on as planned to Scott Base, on McMurdo Sound, for the first overland crossing of the continent. But he added that he had no idea when he would reach the end of his journey.

Rear Adm. George Durek, U. S. chief of Operation Deep Freeze, and Sir Edmund Hillary, who reached the Pole overland 16 days earlier, were on hand to greet the 12 Britons who had brought their tractor train over 940 miles of terrain no man had set foot on before.

Hillary and Fuchs, who had been advised by some other experts that the trip because they believed bad weather is in the offing.

When the party reached the U. S. base at the Pole, about 40 men came out to meet them, slapping them on the back, shaking their hands and excitedly congratulating them.

Hillary and Durek went out to meet the Britons a mile from the polar base. As the tractor train pulled up with flags flying, Hillary advanced to greet Fuchs.

"Hello, Bunny," said the conqueror of Mt. Everest, and the two men shook hands warmly.

Nominations Asked by Jaycees For Outstanding Young Man

The Washington C. H. Junior Chamber of Commerce will be taking nominations all this week for the most outstanding young man in Fayette County in 1957. The young man eventually chosen will be presented the annual Jaycee Distinguished Service Award in March.

Blank forms for nominations have been sent out to a dozen organizations, but Tom Mark, chairman of the committee, said Monday that "we will welcome nominations from any organization or individual, regardless of whether or not they receive the blank forms."

The blanks for making nominations, he said, are available from him he said.

Any young man, who is a resident of Fayette County and between 20 and 36 years old (21 to 25 inclusive) is eligible for the award, Mark said. He emphasized that the nominee need not be a member of the Jaycee.

Nominations must be in the hands of the Jaycee committee by Jan. 27, he said.

THE NOMINEES will be judged on the basis of (1) Contributions to community welfare; (2) Evidence of leadership ability and (3) Evidence of personal or business progress by a committee of Fayette County residents over 35 years of age.

settled are included in the base rate area, he said.

OTHER Ohio Bell proposals will be:

(1) To eliminate the present charges on special - type cords, including the spring cords on the telephone handset.

(2) To establish a flat charge on installation, moving or changing of telephone instrument and line visits to customers' homes, instead of the present charge per item basis on the installation, moving or changing of telephone instruments and lines. The company would continue to repair and maintain its equipment on the customers' premises without charge.

(3) To reduce station - to - station long distance rates on all calls of 64 miles or more within the state, and increase the charges on most shorter haul calls.

Doughty stressed that the proposals would be a part of the overall rate application which requires favorable PUCO action before they can be put into effect.

O'Neill Appointments Eyed; Special Legislature Hinted

COLUMBUS (AP)—Atty. Gen. William Saxbe said today he will urge a special session of the Ohio General Assembly to clear the air on the appointment of two cabinet members and an Ohio State University trustee.

The attorney general said he would offer his solution at a meeting Tuesday of elective state office holders with Republican Chairman Ray C. Bliss here.

"There is considerable doubt," Saxbe reported, "as to the governor's ability to make the appointment of Charles M. Noble as highway director and Dr. Robert A. Haines as mental health director and the holdover appointment of Forest G. Ketter as OSU trustee."

Saxbe is preparing an opinion on the status of the three office holders at the request of State Auditor James A. Rhodes.

Saxbe said the issue is whether the governor can fill vacancies in the three offices when the legislature is not in session if he did not make the appointments before adjournment or the Senate failed to act on an appointment. Senate

Runs Stop Sign; Lands in City Jail

A Washington C. H. man was sentenced in Municipal Court Monday on charges of running a stop sign and driving after his license had been revoked.

Fined $35 and costs and sentenced to two days in jail was Herbert D. Jones, 35, of 418 Fourth St.

He pleaded guilty to running the stop sign, and the $10 fine assessed in that case was suspended.

Pleading not guilty to driving under revocation, he was found guilty, fined $25 and costs, and sentenced to the two-day jail term.

Sam B. Marting Jr., 21, CCC Highway west, forfeited $15 bond for non-appearance on a charge of running a red light.

Machine Age Said Dwarfing Virtues

CINCINNATI (AP)—A Pittsburgh Jewish leader says he thinks the machine age has caused Americans to discard the old virtues of hard work, thrift and individuality.

Rabbi Solomon B. Freehof of Rodfei Shalom Temple said Sunday night that machine age production raised earnings, but destroyed a sense of pride in work to the point that Americans think that working hard shows "a lower standard of development."

"Mankind is being dwarfed," he said at a dinner honoring Rabbi Samuel Wohl for 30 years' service with I. M. Wise Temple here.

Nominations Asked by Jaycees For Outstanding Young Man

The announcement of the judges' decision will be made at the annual "bosses banquet" to be held in March, the date for which has not yet been set.

The outstanding young man in Fayette County will be nominated automatically for one of five similar awards to be made on the state level. Those chosen as outstanding in the state will be considered for a similar nationwide honor.

The state selections will be announced at the all-state Jaycee meeting in Akron on March 8 and 9.

Members of the county judging committee will not be announced until some time after the nominations are closed Jan. 27, Mark said.

Partially-Severed Foot Fails To Halt Man, 70

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Although part of his right foot was cut off when he was struck by a train, 70-year-old Bill Howe walked 200 feet to his home early today and then called for help.

The farm laborer also suffered lead injuries and a fractured hand when struck by a Louisville & Nashville train as he walked along the tracks.

Hospital attendants said it might be necessary to amputate Howe's foot at the ankle.

Skyscraper Started

CLEVELAND (AP)—Construction of Cleveland's newest skyscraper started today with excavation work. The 21-story Tishman Building is expected to be finished late this year.

O'Neill Appointments Eyed; Special Legislature Hinted

confirmation is required for all three appointments.

Noble, former New Jersey Turnpike engineer, has been carried in the state payroll as secretary to the governor for highways because he failed to meet the one-year Ohio residence requirement for highway director. He became eligible for director Jan. 14.

Dr. Haines, former superintendent of Longview State Hospital, Cincinnati, recently was named director although an acting director served during the last legislative session.

Ketter was appointed trustee by Gov. C. William O'Neill's predecessor, but the Senate failed to act on his selection. O'Neill sent Ketter's name up for confirmation during the last Senate session, but no action was taken.

Saxbe indicated that only the Senate would need to meet to act on appointment confirmations if legislative leaders agreed. All legislators must be notified of a special session call, he said, but the House could hold only a skeleton session.

Chicken Crosses Road; 'Why' Is Not Vital Angle

STAR, N. C. (AP)—A chicken dashed out in front of James Mabe of High Point Sunday on U. S. 220.

Mabe braked sharply to avoid the fowl. Behind him, the Rev. James Robert Ricks, also of High Point, swerved to avoid hitting Mabe.

Oncoming Marvin Seagroves of Wilmington ran his tank truck off the highway to keep from smashing Rev. Ricks' car.

The highway patrol said the truck clipped both cars, climbed an embankment and jackknifed. Rev. Mr. Ricks banged into Mabe and Mabe squashed the chicken.

The patrol estimated the total damage at $10,000.

Healthy Wail Leads To Finding of Baby

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police say the healthy wail of an hours-old baby led to its discovery abandoned in the outdoor cellar entrance of a home here.

Investigators found the mother, Mrs. Mary E. Hardey, 26, at a nearby home, and said she admitted giving birth to the baby unattended last Saturday.

Officers said she told them she is separated from her husband and feared she would lose her job if she kept the infant.

In a case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all — results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance, (Bio-Dyne) — discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H.

Labor Ponders Court Action in 'Rights' Dispute

Unions Hope To Avoid State Vote on Change In Ohio Constitution

By REED SMITH
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Labor leaders who failed to win approval for supplemental unemployment benefits at the polls in 1955 may seek to avert a popular vote on the union shop issue this year.

Union officials hint they may take court action to prevent "Ohioans For Right-To-Work" from placing on November election ballots a proposal to change the state constitution.

The proposed amendment is aimed at union shop agreements between labor organizations and employers requiring workers to join the union, usually within 30 days, to keep their jobs.

Sponsors claim the amendment would shift compulsory union membership to a voluntary basis but labor leaders assert "right to work" is a misnomer designed for union-busting.

"Ohioans For Right-To-Work," an organization recently incorporated by State Rep. Elton Kile of Plain City and others, is completing arrangements to circulate petitions needing 354,210 valid signatures to place the amendment on ballots.

A summary of the amendment, approved by the attorney general for form, bore the required 100 signatures but they lacked addresses. Labor officials and their lawyers examined the summary closely without saying whether they would attack its sufficiency.

"We are aware of the fact," said John Rooney, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio CIO Council, "that the matter was presented to the attorney general without addresses of the signers and we will continue to watch the legal aspects."

"There are a number of points that at one time or another might result in court matters in the whole affair," Counsel for Kile's organization declined comment.

State officials said they expected court action to keep the issue off ballots because of the defeat administered a labor-initiated law two years ago.

That proposal, to sanction supplemental unemployment benefits (SUB) and boost state jobless payments, was turned down by voters nearly 2 to 1. Unions have since turned to the courts in an attempt to get "SUB" pay in Ohio.

One official estimated that expenses incidental to obtaining signatures to place the amendment on ballots might average $1 apiece although sponsors, who would foot the bill, propose to use volunteer petition circulators.

Sponsors declined comment on the cost but said state headquarters for the amendment drive probably would be established soon in Columbus.

Signatures, representing 10 per cent of the total vote cast for governor last year, are required from half of Ohio's 88 counties. At least five percent of the gubernatorial vote in each of the 44 counties must be obtained to qualify the petitions.

Each part-petition must contain 50 signatures from a single county and must be filed by Aug. 6. If the petitions are found to be insufficient within 40 days before the Nov. 4 election, 10 days will be allowed to obtain more names.

Circulators themselves must obtain signatures of qualified electors, who can withdraw their names prior to a check by election boards.

The secretary of state is required to print pamphlets containing the text of the amendment, and arguments for and against it, for mailing to voters throughout the state before the election. That may cost $100,000.

Kile's committee will prepare arguments in favor of the amendment. The governor will appoint a committee to draft arguments in opposition in the absence of a legislative session. The arguments must not exceed 300 words and must be filed with the secretary of state at least 60 days before election.

3 Men Killed In Air Accident

DAYTON (AP)—Three men were killed Sunday when a small plane crashed and burned as it took off from a private airport about a mile south of here.

Authorities identified the victims as Dominick F. Giallombardo, 26, Dayton, the pilot; and John Martin Schell Jr., 39, and Cecil Barger, 35, both of Centerville.

Warner Van Horn, one of three co-owners of the four-seat Piper Pacer, said the plane seemed to lack power as it started down the snow-covered, sod runway at the South Dayton Airport. When it reached an altitude of about 100 feet, it stalled and fell.

Advent of Sputnik Brings No Great Change in Ohio Colleges; Here's Why

Editor's Note: In the months since Soviet Russia fired the first earth satellite, there have been demands for greater efforts in the U. S. science and engineering training program to meet the Soviet threat. To find out how the post-sputnik concern over science has affected plans of Ohio's colleges and universities, the Associated Press surveyed many of the state's leading schools. Here are the answers based upon replies from Ohio State, Cincinnati, Western Reserve, Toledo, Kent State, Youngstown, Denison, Dayton, Xavier, Case Tech, Wittenberg, Oberlin, Miami and Ohio Wesleyan.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Demands heard for more emphasis on science and mathematics in our schools as the result of recent Russian missile and satellite achievements have had almost no effect on the education plans of Ohio colleges and universities.

Why? The Associated Press in a survey of leading Ohio colleges and universities turned up two principal answers. They are:

1. Scientists cannot be mass produced regardless of how much money and effort is poured into the attempt.

2. Any disproportionate emphasis on science to the detriment of other phases of education would be disastrous.

There were other reasons, such as a lack of funds and facilities. But 13 colleges and universities responding to the AP survey were unanimous in declaring that a crash program is not the answer to America's critical shortage of scientists.

There is, however, no complacency in Ohio colleges with regard to the Russian-U. S. science race. Almost all of the schools pointed out that they were expanding and revising their science courses and training facilities despite limitations of funds and faculty. Sputnik has only given a greater sense of urgency to these plans.

Some college administrators are critical of what they consider the lateness of public awareness of the problem posed by Soviet advances.

"For years leaders in education have been pointing out our needs for improvement on all levels," said Kent State President George A. Bowman, "These pleadings have fallen most of the time upon a complacent and indifferent people. Isn't it ironical that we have to be confronted with fears of survival because others appear to have superior science and technology before we become seriously concerned about educational needs which have for so long been neglected."

Others were more optimistic about the influence of Sputnik upon American education. Said the Very Rev. Paul L. O'Connor, S. J., president of Xavier University Cincinnati:

"There is a great deal of interest not only on the part of the faculty and students but also upon the part of the community in the quality of our education. If this interest on the part of the citizenry continues, Sputnik may prove to be the greatest boom to education since the invention of the printing press."

But the public's post-sputnik concern over science will probably not result in a rush of new engineering and science students, Ohio educators believe. Commented Frederic Heimberger, Ohio State University vice president in charge of instruction and research:

"It takes a long time to develop a real interest in science in the mind of a boy or girl—the kind of interest which goes deep enough to lay proper foundations for the arduous program of education which must follow. . . . We must not be misled by the sudden flurry of interest brought on by sputnik."

The majority of schools, however, reported slight but steady increases in recent years in the percentage of students enrolled in science training programs. This increase in the difficult science curricula has continued despite the fact that entrance requirements in many schools have been made more stringent recently to prevent overloading of facilities.

Miami University, for instance, reported an eight per cent increase in science majors while enrollment has gone up only five per cent. Western Reserve University had to close registration in its physics department in the fall of 1926 after facilities became loaded to capacity.

And here we run into still another problem. Even if it were possible to turn up large numbers of serious science students, Ohio educators say their facilities are filled almost to capacity and could not handle any sudden surge of new applicants.

The shortage of laboratory facilities is part of the overall college problem. The demand for more science comes at a time when the state's schools, faced with the prospect of vastly increased enrollments in the years immediately ahead, are hard-pressed to provide adequate facilities for all types of students.

In trying to expand their research and science training facilities, Ohio colleges and universities say they are further hampered by the high cost of most basic equipment.

Take the cost of an electronic computer—a basic tool of modern physics. To purchase one of these machines costs anywhere from $20,000 to 1½ million dollars. Rental rates run between $30,000 and $200,000 a year depending on the size and type of instrument.

A small nuclear research reactor such as the one recently installed at the University of Akron costs approximately $100,000. Particle accelerators (atom smashers) are fantastically expensive. The 100 billion volt accelerator which 10 midwestern universities, including Ohio State, plan to build jointly will be paid for by the Atomic Energy Commission. The cost—about 100 million dollars.

Funds for research continue to come principally from school appropriation, government contract or private foundation grants. There is a great deal of talk about business and industry's responsibility to support education. But most schools surveyed reported no noticeable increase of support from this direction since sputnik.

The University of Toledo, however, reported fine industry response to its two million dollar fund raising campaign for a new engineering-science building.

But even if there were sufficient funds and facilities and a large enough staff of faculty members to undertake a crash program, Ohio educators doubt the wisdom of a vastly increased and specialized science training program.

With the exception of the University of Toledo, none of the schools surveyed said they grant degrees or have plans for accelerated science of engineering training programs. The University of Toledo's Technical Institute began a special two-year program in September to train technicians and engineers' aides.

The schools maintain that a

Here's Tally On Nation's Goods Output

WASHINGTON (AP)—At 434 billion dollars, the total output of goods and services last year was nearly eight times that of 1933, low point of the great depression when measured by prices that prevailed in each of those years.

But if the 1933 gross national product is computed at 1957 prices, last year's output was only about three times as great.

In comparison with prosperous 1929, last year's GNP was four times as great in prevailing prices, but only twice as big in terms of 1957 dollars.

Tables included in President Eisenhower's economic report to Congress today point up the part price inflation has played in the nation's economy.

The following shows the gross national product for selected years with prices actually prevailing, what it would have been in 1957 prices and in 1947 prices—now the base for measuring changes in the cost of living: (in billions of dollars)

Year	Prevailing	1957	1947
1929	$104.4	$193.8	$1,493
1933	56.0	134.9	103.0
1935	72.5	164.0	127.8
1940	100.6	221.6	171.6
1945	213.6	340.1	263.1
1950	285.1	341.6	264.7
1955	391.7	417.4	322.8
1956	414.7	430.3	332.0
1957	438.9	433.9	334.7

Gordon Lasater, Texas rancher who specializes in Brown Swiss bulls and heifers, has 400,000 acres and 20,000 beef cattle. He lives at Falfurrias, Tex.

well-rounded education is still necessary to the proper development of any student. Said Ohio State's Heimberger:

"We believe that there are no short cuts to the kind of intellectual development which is demanded if we are to get out front and stay there. The kind of quality education we are striving for demands breadth and depth—and time."

There also is some question whether the types of scientists turned out by an accelerated program would be of much value in view of the complex nature of modern science. Commented H. S. Greene, dean of academic administration at the University of Cincinnati:

"We must encourage more of our good science majors to go on to graduate school. It is the type of scientist who comes out of graduate school that is so desperately needed for basic research."

But beyond this consideration for quality, Ohio's college administrators fear that too much emphasis on keeping up with the Russians in a scientific and technological race might eventually do great harm to the American education system with its traditional emphasis on moral, cultural and spiritual values.

Said Joseph J. Panzer, dean of the University of Dayton: "It would be a costly mistake to attempt merely to compete with Russia on the materialistic level. Preservation of balance in our education is vital."

And Mr. Heimberger summed it up this way:

"It may be necessary for sheer survival to drive ahead full speed in the development of missiles and H-bombs. . . . But it would be tragic if in this time of admitted peril, we lost all thought of the lasting values of the humanities and the social sciences. . . . Present world conditions may force us into a crash program for survival but they must not blind us to the fact that survival alone is not enough. Standing alone, it is a goal beneath the dignity of man."

Air Guard Pilot Chutes to Safety

TROY (AP)—Second Lt. John A. Cable, 22, an Ohio Air National Guardsman from Dayton, parachuted to safety Sunday when the engine of his F84F Sabre Jet caught fire northeast of here.

Cable, who had taken off from Springfield about an hour earlier on a routine training flight, slightly injured his ankle when he landed in a field. The plane exploded when it crashed on a farm about three miles northeast of here. The explosion slightly damaged a barn.

Huge Angus Sale Slated Wednesday

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—What is believed to be one of the biggest cattle herd dispersal sales in Ohio history is scheduled for Wednesday at the Do-Je-Rae farm of Albert E. Payne.

Payne, a Springfield industrialist, said 300 to 350 Aberdeen Angus bulls, cows and calves will be auctioned. He estimated the herd is worth $100,000 if sold for slaughter and about $500,000 for breeding purposes.

The Do-Je-Rae farm is located south of here on Ohio 72.

There Are Other Things To Do

It is evident from the general comment among the people of Washington C. H. that the awarding of contracts by the Washington Board of Education for the building of two new elementary schools and additions of two rooms each to two other schools in the city, has met with much satisfaction among a majority of citizens.

What evidently were very reasonably low bids, especially by the local contracting firm and others to whom awards were made, is a feature well worth attention.

There never has been any question about the need for more elementary school rooms in this city which has shown a steady and constant increase in school pupils.

Particularly pleasing to most people was the assurance given by the contractors who were successful in receiving awards, that there is good reason to believe that the 27 new classrooms will be in shape for use by the beginning of the next school year, unless unexpected conditions of weather or inability to obtain material, would intervene.

There is no doubt in the minds of most people of the city that many new elementary classrooms were needed long ago and that was one reason for the big vote here in favor of new buildings and additions.

The bonds were sold Jan. 2 at an unexpectedly favorable rate of 3 3/4 per cent interest plus a premium of $11,119. The premium and accrued interest on the bonds must by law be applied to their retirement over a 23-year period.

New construction in the program here, will mean the end of 11 emergency classrooms in school basements and in churches which now house approximately 300 children.

The new school facilities will include the one-story, 15-classroom Eastside Building; the one-story, eight-classroom Belle-Aire Building and two-room additions at both Rose Avenue and Cherry Hill buildings.

Now, if our city is able to go ahead soon with some of its other proposed improvements, such as those affecting our sewage disposal system, and perhaps some other work on street improvements, we will be in a position to point with pride to accomplishments which place Washington C. H. among the top bracket small cities of Ohio.

Our city officials appear to be putting forth great effort to achieve that purpose at a minimum of expense.

NEW YORK (AP)—A man can go to a lawyer and return home without feeling he himself has become another Clarence Darrow.

A man can go to a physician and emerge without feeling that the visit has turned him into another Hippocrates or Dr. Paul Dudley White.

Then why, pray tell me, can't a person go to a psychiatrist and leave without the conviction that he is now the reincarnation of Sigmund Freud?

I am not one to mock the benefits of psychoanalysis, real or fancied. If a fellow takes an hour off in the middle of the day to lie down on a couch and tell his troubles, he at least is taking a load off his feet.

It may do a lot for his mind as well as rest his feet. But why, why indeed, does he feel that one trip to a psychiatrist's couch makes him, when he arises, an authority on my mind?

It seems to. A trained psychoanalyst may have spent 14 years studying his art and still feel he has much to learn. But his patient, after a 60-minute verbal enunciation, is often convinced he now knows not only what is wrong with himself, but also what is wrong with all his friends.

Our civilization is getting cluttered up with these amateur mind sweepers. Your amateur psychoanalyst sees an incipient neurosis or budding psychosis in everything you do. The one thing he can't stand is the thought that you are well adjusted, and he is not.

How many people do you know like this today? I know at least a dozen, and it appears to me they are beginning to make social life and ordinary conversation more and more impossible.

If you meet one of these pests at a party and sneeze and murmur, "I must be catching a cold," he has a better answer: "No, it may be a sign of frustration. The sneeze is a subconscious attempt to gain attention and recognition, such as your mother gave you when you were an infant."

If your small daughter enters wearing a new dress and asks, "Do I look pretty, Daddy?" he sees her remark as a danger signal.

"Your daughter is developing a terrible case of extroverted narcissism," he warns. If you mull aloud over which of two restaurants to go to for lunch, you're coming down with schizophrenia.

If you worry because you've got a lot of bills to pay, you're a manic-depressive in the depressive phase. On the other hand, if you get a raise in pay and celebrate it, you're a manic-depressive in the manic, or exhilarated phase.

You can't win no matter how you behave.

But I feel I know what's really wrong with most of them, too. Their ailment isn't so much in their minds as their mouths. Their mouths are simply too big for the brains they wag.

Exit, The 'Daily Worker'

By George Sokolsky

The closing of the "Daily Worker" and the resignation of John Gates from the Communist party may give the impression that that party is dead. Gates, editor of the "Daily Worker" and once the commissar of the Abraham Lincoln Brigade which fought in the Spanish Civil War, has been an important figure in the Communist party. He had served a term in prison under the Smith Act.

Since the death of Stalin, there has been a split in the American Communist party between those who accept Moscow's word absolutely and those who are critical of the Kremlin.

Among the many who have resigned from the party under these circumstances has been Howard Fast, the writer, who in Soviet Russia has been acclaimed as the foremost American author of this generation.

The "Daily Worker" had been in existence 34 years. The reason given for the suspension of the publication is lack of financial support. This is only true to the extent that Soviet Russia would not support a newspaper edited by the right deviationist, John Gates. The American Communist party has never been short of funds, such being provided either by rich Americans who wish to remake the world or by the Kremlin.

In February 1957, at the 16th national convention of the American Communist party, a potent quarrel took place between the Kremlin crowd and the right wing who were attempting to follow Earl Browder's concept of American exceptionalism, that is that economic and social conditions in the United States are different from other countries and that therefore the rules set up the Kremlin cannot be applied to this country.

Soviet Russia requires each Communist party in every country to be a branch of the Russian party and subservient to it. During World War II because communications were difficult, Browder was able to establish a nationalistic Communist party in the United States.

Immediately after the war, Browder was expelled from the American party. However, American Communist had experienced a measure of freedom from Soviet dicta and some preferred it. Furthermore, as the cold war progressed, Russia tended to ignore the party and to depend more and more upon spies and agents whose job was not so much agitation and propaganda as it was, and is, corruption and sabotage.

Those who favor being subservient to Moscow under any circumstances are led by William Z. Foster and Eugene Dennis who have long been party functionaries.

Opposed to them is a group led by Gates, who employed this party newspaper to advocate his point of view. Gates has held that Russian communism, inconsistent, racist in the sense that it has become covertly anti-Semitic, violently anti-American, in fact, is forcing upon every member of the party an attitude of treason.

The Gates faction sought to sell the medication, Marxism, in a more beautiful package, even one wrapped in the American flag. This sentence may sound as though I question the sincerity of Gates's motives; I do not. Many Communist have faced the proposition that they cannot submit to the Kremlin demand that they be robots, without thought or emotion.

In the August 1957 issue of the Soviet periodical "Kommunist," Gates was identified by B. N. Ponomarev, member of the Central Committee of the Russian Communist party, as a revisionist. Such a mention is equivalent as a warning of early excommunication.

In November 1957, representatives of the Soviet Communist party and 11 other Communist controlled countries signed a joint declaration in Moscow pledging their support to Marxist-Leninist principles and denouncing revisionism as the principal present danger to the party.

That cooked Gates's goose was in the party. Either the American party had to become independent or throw Gates out. They threw Gates out.

The closing of the "Daily Worker" therefore was accomplished by the Kremlin with the object of proving who is the boss of the American Communist party. Obviously, it is Nikita Khrushchev.

Earl Browder in his lectures at Rutgers University makes the point that the dogmatist is often hypnotized by the logic of the word, but that is not the sole explanation.

If Soviet Russia loses the discipline over Communist parties, it loses an effective arm. For it, it has to substitute espionage and sabotage corps.

It is sound for the Kremlin to discipline those who dare, for any reason, to show any signs of independence.

Try and Stop Me

AN EXECUTIVE had trouble finding a new secretary who would work more than 25 hours a week—but he's got one at last. He thinks she's pretty smart, too—and submits this evidence to prove his point:

1. She says she's made a remarkable discovery about a fountain pen: if you dip it into a bottle of ink, you can use it just like any other pen, without going to all the bother of filling it.

2. On her job questionnaire she was asked, "What types of machine are you skilled in operating?" She answered, "Slot and pinball."

Sir James Chrichton-Browne tells about a vaudeville impersonator who told his audience, "If somebody here will name a female character in Shakespeare, I'll endeavor to give my impression of her." A brilliant man in Row C hollered "Florence Nightingale." Unperturbed, the impersonator replied, "I said Shakespeare, not Dickens."

Early Care Protects Baby's Eye Damage

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

A SLIGHT case of cross-eye may cause more trouble than a severe one, because it is apt to go unnoticed. Nothing is done to correct the situation until it is too late.

The same holds true for any visual error affecting only one eye. In many such cases, the performance of the normal eye prevents detection of the shortcomings of the other.

This is why it is so important for every youngster to have a thorough eye examination before he is four years old. Our eye specialists today are being confronted with more one-eyed school children than ever before.

Could Be Prevented

In a great majority of cases this partial blindness could have been prevented by the proper eye care at the proper time. From the very moment you bring that cute new baby home from the hospital, you can begin taking precautions to protect his eyesight.

When feeding him from a bottle, for example, hold him in one arm for one meal and in the other for the next.

If you always cradle him against your shoulder in the same position, one of his eyes will be kept out of activity for so long that it may fail to develop properly.

Visual Trouble

Every parent knows that his child's teeth should be examined by the age of three. But, unfortunately, most of you fathers and mothers apparently believe that nothing need be done about your youngster's eyes until he complains of visual trouble.

His eyes probably will be examined when he enters school, but, by that time, it may be too late.

Amblyopia, or loss of useful central vision in one eye, may result from neglect of poorly aligned eyes or from nearsightedness, farsightedness or astigmatism. This is especially true when they occur only in one eye.

Distorted Image

Such faults in a single eye may produce a distorted image which won't fuse with the clear image brought to the brain by the other eye. In rebellion, the brain ignores one of the images and the eye which produces it grows lazy and fails to develop central vision.

We can almost always correct amblyopia with glasses, visual training, occlusion or surgery—if it is discovered and treated in time. Starting treatment at the age of six or seven may be too late.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Q. W.: Is it necessary to be immunized against diphtheria? Answer: Definitely yes. One of the reasons why diphtheria is not as prevalent as it was formerly is the fact people are now being immunized against it, thus preventing the spread of the disease.

CLEVELAND (AP)—William R. Cox has been charged with burglary of a Fremont store from which 175 shotguns, pistols and rifles were stolen last Nov. 11.

Twenty-six of the guns have been recovered. Robert Koskoph, 40, president of the Union Towel Supply Co. here, admitted purchasing 30 of the guns but denied knowing they were stolen.

Koskoph, free on bond after being charged with illegal sale of weapons, said he bought the guns for $600, sold them for $650.

The Nation Today

James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today began his sixth White House year. It's too soon for final judgments. But some things can be said on both sides of his administration's performance so far.

He's still popular but less so than before. He took office as a military hero and recognized leader. For years he was almost free of criticism. Now he's increasingly being criticized and his leadership questioned.

History may say the two worst things that happened to Eisenhower were his three illnesses, which slowed him up, and Stalin's death. The psychopathic Stalin's one-track hostility frightened Russia's neighbors.

Stalin's heirs switched tactics and began making progress with blandishments, salesmanship and propaganda. Eisenhower has a found no new way to offset them.

As a military leader Eisenhower was expected to keep this country in front of Russia. But he was caught napping on Russian progress in missiles. The proof is his effort now to catch up.

Eisenhower led this country into its greatest period of prosperity although living costs have risen steadily. Now the economy is declining and unemployment increasing.

He wanted economy and practiced it, although he may have been too economical on defense. He balanced the budget twice but may never be able to do so again. Because of the Russians, his budget this year set a record.

For 20 years Republicans blasted the "Creeping Socialism" of the New Deal and the "Fair Deal." And Eisenhower has tried to turn more and more government activities over to states or private business. But he has taken over most of the earlier Democratic programs and expanded them.

Perhaps his greatest contribution was his restraint and common sense at the time he took office: a time of deep worry over domestic communism with the country almost sick in its division over McCarthyism.

By his patience and decency he helped calm fear and passion. The American Communist Party now is a dwindling threat. And Eisenhower's aides helped push Sen. McCarthy and McCarthyism out of the American consciousness.

But his restraint has worked against Eisenhower in other ways. He's been far less than aggressive in fighting with Congress for his programs. The result: some of the pet projects were banged around.

That same restraint and hesitancy about irritating anyone may have unintentionally precipitated his greatest domestic crisis: the Little Rock school episode.

Before that occurred, Eisenhower not only declined to say whether he approved the Supreme Court's ruling that public school segregation is unconstitutional but backed away from saying whether he'd use troops if necessary to back up the courts.

Eventually he had to use the troops, when Arkansas' Governor Faubus called out the National Guard and kept Negro students from the school. If Eisenhower had taken a stand earlier on the use of troops, Faubus might not have tried what he did.

In the foreign field Eisenhower got an end to the Korean War, restored quiet to the Formosa area, may have prevented a World War by forcing a quick end to the British-French-Israeli invasion of Egypt, fought for continued foreign aid, and even went to the Summit Conference in a vain search for peace.

His most original effort in foreign affairs was his atoms for peace proposal, now finally in operation. But one intangible thing—Eisenhower's obvious good will—may have been his greatest contribution to foreign affairs and world peace.

Russian recognition of his good will possibly explains in some part why the Russians have not been more explosive. Another reason, of course, is their fear of American retaliation if they tried any large-sized aggression.

But Eisenhower's foreign policy is not originally his own. He has followed the basic Truman foreign policy and has added to it practically no new ideas of his own.

Economic Pressures Affect Red Deals in Latin Nations

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Economic pressures appear to be blasting holes in Latin America's reserve toward any deals with Russia and its satellites.

This week an official Argentine trade mission headed for the Communist-ruled lands of Europe.

In Brazil, important voices were being heard in favor of trade with Soviet Russia.

Chile, likewise, was warning to the idea of closer trade and cultural relations with the Soviets despite lack of diplomatic links.

The Argentine mission head, Undersecretary of Industry Raul Ondarts, has stressed his country's need for capital goods, especially oil industry equipment. He contends that the source of the needed goods is irrelevant.

Economists estimate Argentina needs at least a billion dollars in foreign credits to get back on its feet after the dictatorship of Juan Peron. Only a fraction of that amount has been obtained in the free world.

Brazil is apprehensive over the possibility of a severe economic depression brought on by falling coffee prices.

Russia has offered Brazil oil equipment and technical assistance.

Steadily declining copper prices have prompted a revision in Chile's long-standing distaste for dealings with the Communists.

Income from copper exports account for more than 60 per cent of Chile's budget and falling prices have brought severe economic strain.

The ban on copper sales to Soviet Russia has been lifted.

Uruguay is the apparent base for Russia's activities in Latin America. The embassy staff in Montevideo is the Soviet Union's largest in the hemisphere. Soviet publications flood the newsstands of Montevideo.

Uruguay's principal export is wool. The country was badly hit when the United States began to subsidize domestic producers and thus caused a drop in wool exports to the United States to a fraction of their former total.

Last year Uruguay sold some 3 million dollars' worth of meat, wool and leather goods to Russia but there was less trade than in 1956.

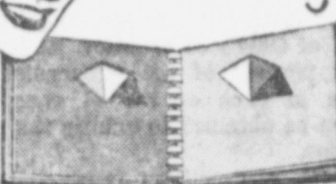

Informed sources reported the arrival of a Soviet Russian trade mission to Colombia this month. They said trade talks in Bogota are well advanced.

Colombia for many years has been one of the foremost anti-Soviet republics in Latin America. It was the only one to send troops to Korea.

Unofficial reports said the Russian mission had offered to buy 30 million dollars worth of Colombian coffee in return for farm machinery and raw materials.

TO IKE FROM IKE—The oldest U. S. Navy pensioner of record, Isaac (Ike) Fasset of Philadelphia holds a congratulatory note from President Eisenhower on Fasset's 100th birthday. The note was signed "Ike to Ike." Fasset joined the Navy in 1881, retired in 1911.

Businessmen To Study Ike's Report Closely

Nation's Economic Status, Recession
Causing Concern

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) — Businessmen will scan the President's economic report to the nation today for something more than the statistics on the present situation and predictions of an upturn at some later date.

There have been plenty of these to scan already. The statistics indicate the recession has dipped deeper than first anticipated for this date. The experts vary in their guessing about the future and economic predictions are about the least exact science we have.

What the businessman — and his employees and his customers — will be looking for is what the administration plans to do in the present situation and what it would do if the slump widens and deepens.

Both programs are becoming clearer now on such matters as taxes, pump priming, money policy, public works and deficit financing.

The administration would like to balance the next budget even if that now looks like an outside chance. To that end, its present plan is to urge Congress to renege the present high tax rates.

That means a move to get Congress again to extend by one year the 52 per cent corporate income levy first enacted as an emergency measure in the Korean war. The rate is scheduled to drop to 47 per cent July 1.

The administration also wants the excise taxes similarly marked as emergency to be voted for another year. These selective sales taxes make your autos, cigarettes, liquor and train rides cost more.

As the economy stands now that is what the administration wants. But it seems prepared, if the recession really starts rolling, to cut taxes both as a relief to business and as a means of giving the consumer more to spend. Congress seems even more prepared to do so. This is an election year.

Tight money gradually is turning to easy money. The federal reserve is lowering its interest charges to banks and allowing stock traders to buy more on the cuff.

The administration is priming the home building pump by easing up on credit terms and by releasing funds for public housing. It is indicating that it won't shy from deficit financing if needed to maintain its increased defense spending plans.

Pump priming is a by product of other policies — increased defense spending, the big highway program, proposed financial aid to education.

But the immediate effect of the President's economic report may well be psychological. In his talks he stresses the "solid grounds for confidence." If this proves catching, businessmen might reverse their policy of trimming inventories and expansion plans, and consumers might reverse their policy of saving more and buying carefully.

When that happens, timing the turn in the economic tide will be much easier — both for the business experts and the President's advisors.

Prohibition Era Cache Uncovered

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Benjamin Halicki, 39, broke through a secret compartment Sunday while repairing a staircase in his mother's North Philadelphia home.

Inside the compartment was an arsenal of 60 pistols and hundreds of rounds of ammunition which police said may have been placed there by gangsters during the Prohibition Era. Along with the guns and ammunition were six newspapers dated 1932.

People . . . Places . . . and Things

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY
Recently I gave you an account of a "field day" for harvesters and mowers, held 100 years ago near Hamilton, and presented pictures of the "field day" in 1857 was just the year before John F. Appleby invented the mechanical knottor which revolutionized grain harvest with machines which bound and delivered the sheaves of grain to a carrier. When several sheaves were ready they were dumped, as in the case of the old Deering and McCormick binders and similar machines.

As a matter of fact Appleby, inventor of the wonderful knotting gadget, teamed up with William Deering in Chicago, in 1880. He furnished inventive and engineering skill and Deering furnished the manufacturing and sales talent.

The Deering Company grew apace in the production of farm machinery, notably in binders.

Appleby never patented his knotting device, but his association with Deering lifted him from obscurity. Now the knotters are used chiefly on pick-up hay-balers.

On a spacious lawn on Route 12, nine miles north of Elkhorn, Wis., is a large stone monument bearing a bronze plaque with the simple information. "Houghton Farm where John F. Appleby made Knottor in 1858." Orley C. Houghton owns the farm, and for years was affiliated with Appleby in producing grain binders.

PLAYED "SHINNY" IN BRIDGE

That old covered bridge over Paint Creek on Route 35, a mile south of this city, which was torn away 30 years ago, was formerly a congregating place for boys of the neighborhood to play "shinny".

The boys usually gathered in the bridge on rainy days and Sundays, and sometimes played shinny for hours, using curved sticks to bat tin cans, blocks of wood and other objects, back and forth in the bridge.

Cold weather didn't keep the boys from playing, so during all season of the year they assembled for their game. Shinny is defined as "the game of hockey, informally played with curved clubs and balls, blocks of wood or other objects, by schoolboys."

Shinny, in those days, was a very popular game with the boys, and many a youngster has had his shins bruised by a misdirected blow of a shinny club. Hence the name "shinny."

One of the boys who frequently played in the bridge was Otis Stookey, who lived a short distance from the span, and who said that usually traffic was so light that it did not interfere much with their games. Sometimes horses and buggies or other vehicles on the road would be an hour or more apart. Otis said in recalling the days when the bridge housed the shinny games.

DON'T GROW HERE

I have talked with many people who have tried to grow peanuts in this area, but invariably they were not successful, as the crop was light and peanuts very small.

In fact when I was a good sized boy, I tried to grow some peanuts two or three years in succession, and was never successful, so I gave it up.

I have seen great fields of peanuts growing in Georgia and other Southern states, where the climate and soil are both better adapted to growing the nuts.

In addition to use of peanuts for eating, either raw or roasted (the raw ones are much more easily digested) the nuts are used for producing oil and peanut butter in large quantities, while the shells are processed and used as a substitute for cork.

In addition to being called peanuts, they are also known as groundpeas, groundnuts, goobers, pinders, and, because monkeys are very fond of them, they are sometimes called monkey nuts.

40 YEARS AGO

An Allied break with Russia was looming as Russia was getting further and further out of the war.

Back yard gardens for the duration of war were being urged by the federal government.

Coal thieves who had been looting parked coal cars here and selling the fuel to "customers" throughout the city were being rounded up.

A funeral procession for John B. Fent was forced to take to fields to reach Fairview Cemetery, due to a snow-blocked road. Some highways in the county had been blocked for two weeks, when residents took no steps to clear them even though they were missing mail each day.

Heatless Mondays were decreed by the Fuel Administration, with suspension of all business except sale of food and coal.

A Farmers Institute was held at Bloomingburg with M. L. Dickey as president.

The Rothrock Laundry, owned by Benjamin Vandever, was sold to Charles Coffman, of Hillsboro.

Teachers and pupils of rural schools were enrolled to test corn for seed, as little good seed corn was believed to be available in the county due to low temperatures in December and early January.

Scores of passenger trains were discontinued temporarily to save fuel.

Henry Mark died at 83 years.

Widespread disorders broke out in Austria.

The winter to date had been the coldest in 47 years, with no indications when the bad weather would let up.

Two hundred draftees called up for physical examinations at World War continued.

Jasper Farm Bureau Holds Annual Meet

MILLEDGEVILLE — Jasper Township Farm Bureau members held their annual meeting and turkey supper Friday night at Milledgeville School.

Following the meal the chairman, John Morgan, announced that the present 1958 membership had reached 53. The goal is 64 members.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sollars, the former Ohio Farm Bureau trustee for Fayette, Greene, Clinton and Montgomery counties were present. Sollars explained the function and working of the trustees and stressed the importance of local members combining to get their local county and state problems solved.

COUNTY AGENT W. W. Montgomery, discussed the new program of weighing and marking all 4-H steer calves. He said there were 61 steer club members, a few more than last year.

He discussed H. B. 25-passed by the last session of the Legislature which is an attempt to help farmers with their drainage and water management problems where new highways are constructed. Fayette County will be greatly affected by the new north-south freeway.

Officers elected for 1958 were: Charles Shaper, chairman; John Morgan, vice chairman; Edna Hiser, secretary.

"I love the part," she said, "but I told them a month ago I would have to leave to marry Erich." Miss Goddard said the date has not been set. She previously was married to Charles Chaplin and Burgess Meredith.

Your Income Tax Report—No. 1

Advantages Cited in Early Filing of Your Tax Return

Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of eight stories on your income tax, designed to save you time and money in filing your return on 1957 income. Clip and save each of the eight articles for ready reference when you begin calculating your tax.

By G. K. FODENFIELD
AP Newsfeatures Writer

There's no use trying to ignore it any longer. It's that time again when Uncle Sam expects all his money-making nieces and nephews to file their income tax returns.

The deadline isn't until midnight of Tuesday, April 15. However, if you have a refund coming, odds are the sooner you file your return the sooner you'll get your money. Even if you owe Uncle Sam more than he already has taken, it's wise to get started now. Those who wait until the last minute are more apt to make mistakes, and mistakes can be costly.

By this time Uncle Sam should have mailed you a copy of the same type of form that you used last year. If he didn't, or if you are paying income tax for the first time, you can get the forms and instructions sheets from your local bank or post office, or from any Internal Revenue Service office.

Before you start the actual work on your tax return it might be well to develop the proper mental attitude by repeating slowly several times: "It just isn't true that Uncle Sam wants all my money and the shirt off my back—it only seems that way."

Actually, the tax laws provide numerous ways in which you can reduce the government's annual bite. The tax collectors insist they want only what's due, and not a cent more. They proved that last year by refunding millions of dollars to surprised taxpayers who had made careless mistakes in filling out their forms.

This series of articles is designed primarily to help the vast group of Americans who deal directly with the government on taxes due for salaries and wages earned during 1957.

If you are under age 65 and had an income of $800 or more during 1957, you must file a return, regardless of whether any tax is due. If you are 65 or over, you must file if your gross income was $1,200 or more.

If your income was below these minimums, you don't owe any tax. So, if your employer or employers withheld any taxes during the year, you must file a return in order to get a refund.

You can fill out your form and mail it in just as soon as your employer (or employers, if you worked for more than one during the year) provides you with his record of how much you were paid and how much was deducted for taxes during the year.

This information will come to you on form W-2, and a copy (copy B) of this form must be attached to your return when you file it.

There have been no major changes in the tax laws since last year. There has been only one major change in the form 1040—the addition of a line on the first page for the listing of travel and reimbursed expenses, etc. However, after the forms were printed, the Internal Revenue Service decided that the public hadn't been given enough warning of the details involved, so it ruled that you are not required to use the new line. A later article will explain this new line.

In addition to filing an income tax return for money earned in 1957, many taxpayers will have to file a declaration of estimated income and tax for money to be earned in 1958.

This is designed primarily for self-employed persons, but it also applies to other taxpayers who will have income during the year that will not be subject to the withholding tax.

The declaration includes the amount of any such income and the amount of tax that must be paid on it. Then the taxpayer must make quarterly payments to IRS to cover the difference between the estimated total tax due and the amount paid through withholdings.

The idea is to keep taxpayers on a pay-as-you-go basis.

If you find later that you have underestimated your tax, your nearest IRS office can tell you how to file an amended declaration.

After you get your facts and figures together on your 1957 income, the next thing to decide is which of the various forms to use. That will be the subject of the next article.

2 Slayings Win Nod For Execution Stay

WASHINGTON (AP)—Justice Burton of the Supreme Court has stayed the execution of Robert L. Jackson and Lemuel S. Trotter, sentenced to death in Ohio for the slaying of a Cincinnati detective.

Burton granted their request that their execution, which had been scheduled for Thursday, be stayed so they could appeal to the entire Supreme Court.

The two men were convicted of shooting Detective Walter Hart during a robbery attempt at a Cincinnati Cafe on Sept. 19, 1936.

Enthusiasm Labeled Key To Lasky's Fabulous Career

Editor's Note: One of the great shaping forces in the movie industry since its very beginning in Hollywood was a kindly, bespectacled producer named Jesse Lasky. Last week, he died. In this and two articles to follow Bob Thomas tells the highlights of the film pioneer's life.

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I think that if you put enough enthusiasm into anything, it eventually bears fruit, possibly in some other form, but it's never lost."

That was what Jesse Lasky wrote in his autobiography, "I blow My Own Horn," which he was publicizing just before he fell dead last week. And his words just about summed up the remarkable career of a kindly gentleman with a rare talent for enthusiasm.

He just wouldn't give up. He recalled looking out of his New York office window in 1919 to see the ticker-tape reception for Sgt. Alvin C. York, the great World War I hero who had killed 28 Germans and captured 132 more. Then the head of Famous Players-Lasky (later Paramount), the producer offered to buy the hero's life story for film.

York's reply: "My life is not for sale."

Twenty years later, the movie parade had passed Lasky by. Searching for a subject to make a comeback with, he remembered Sgt. York. He went to the Cumberland Mountains to see York. After lengthy negotiations, they made a deal. Lasky signed a $25,000 check for half-payment on the film rights, then hurried home to borrow on his life insurance to cover the check.

But Lasky faced another selling job. He couldn't interest any of the major studios in making the film. Finally Warner Brothers agreed to make the picture after hearing Lasky's argument that such a story would be a service to the nation as it prepared for war.

Lasky's next hurdle: Getting

Gary Cooper for the leading role. The producer went to his former brother-in-law and partner, Samuel Goldwyn, who held Cooper's contract. Goldwyn agreed to loan Cooper.

"Sergeant York" was a smash hit and won Cooper his first Oscar. Lasky's enthusiasm was finally fulfilled—only 20 years late.

Machinists Rap Work 'Right' Law

COLUMBUS (AP)—Some 230 members of the Ohio State Council of Machinists concluded a special 529-day meeting here Sunday, unanimously adopting a resolution condemning so-called "right-to-work" laws.

Ohio leaders of the International Assn. of Machinists called a proposed amendment to the Ohio Constitution a law "to work without rights." The amendment would prohibit compulsory union membership to keep a job.

The resolution accused the U. S. Chamber of Commerce and the National Assn. of Manufacturers of fostering "union-busting."

Coins in Fountain Go to Charity

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — It may not be the real thing, but it pays just as well — for charity.

The Great Western Shopping Center here has a replica of the Trevi Fountain in Rome into which world travelers toss coins to guarantee returning to Rome. Lately, folks have taken to tossing coins into the shopping center's replica fountain.

Caretakers say between $50 and $75 is recovered each month. The money is contributed to charity.

College Cagers Reach Peak at Mid-Term Lull

West Virginia Stands As Leader; Score Duel Also Takes Spotlight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
College basketball has come up to its annual break for mid-term examinations featured by:

1. West Virginia's emergence as the nation's leading team.
2. The Oscar Robertson-Wilt Chamberlain scoring duel.
3. Some of the closest—and dafiest—conference races in many a year.

There ought to be a No. 4: an apprehensive shudder among the sponsors of the post-season National Collegiate Athletic Assn. championships.

The NCAA is delighted with point No. 1, since West Virginia, unbeaten in 13 games, appears to outclass the Southern Conference, which sends its champ into the NCAA tournament in March. The Robertson-Chamberlain duel would be just dandy if it weren't for point 3.

Robertson, the spectacular soph from Cincinnati, currently leads the major scorers with a 32.43 average for 14 games. Chamberlain follows at 32.42 for 12 games. Both may be on the outside looking in, from the NCAA's standpoint, when the championship tournament begins unless they can rally their teams in a pair of rugged conference races.

Cincinnati, stumbling while Robertson's 6-10 helper, Connie Dierking, was injured, has reached the mid-season break in an all-out scuffle with Wichita, Bradley and St. Louis in the class-packed Missouri Valley Conference. Wichita leads with 3-0 after Saturday's 74-63 whipping of Tulsa, with Cincinnati next at 7-1 after clipping St. Louis 85-72. Bradley (6-1) and St. Louis (2-1) still have a shot at the title.

Wichita gets its big test this week, facing Bradley Thursday and Cincinnati Saturday in a pair of road games.

In the Big Eight conference, it's no more certain for Kansas which dropped a conference game to Oklahoma while Chamberlain was out with a groin injury. Including Saturday's 68-54 romp over Missouri as Wilt scored 35, their 2-1 record places them no better than third in the conference behind Iowa State and Kansas State, both 2-0.

The Big 10, Pacific Coast, Southwest, Skyline, Atlantic Coast, and Ohio Valley are well scrambled among other conferences sending their champs into post-season play.

Michigan (3-1) leads Michigan State (2-1) in the Big 10. UCLA and California each are 5-1 in the Pacific Coast with Oregon State at 2-1, and in the Southwest, Arkansas runs first with a 4-0 record. In the Skyline, it's Montana, Colorado State U. and Wyoming, each 3-1. Brigham Young 2-1 favored Utah 2-2; in the Ohio Valley, Tennessee Tech first with 3-1. Middle Tennessee 2-1 and Morehead (Ky) 3-2, and in the ACC, Maryland 4-1, North Carolina 5-2, and N.C. State 4-2.

3 SCO Teams Meet Defeat On Saturday

As far as Saturday night was concerned, the Southcentral Ohio (SCO) League teams should have stayed in bed.

While the Lions were getting beaten, 71-59, at Xenia, their league partners weren't faring any better.

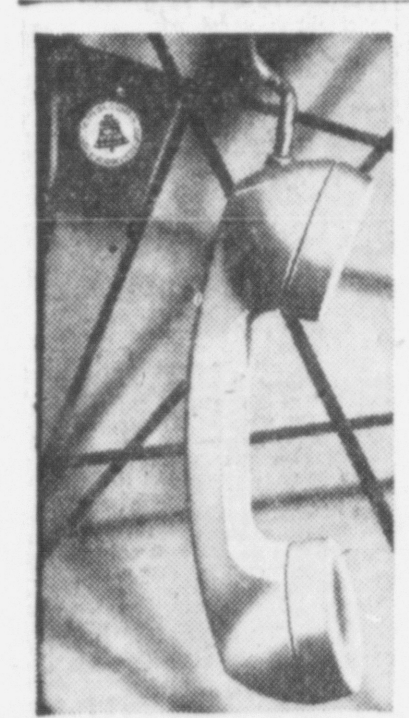

Greenfield got beaten, 69-57, by a weak Portsmouth team on the Scioto County grounds. Circleville went to Ross County and got whipped, 69-57, by Chillicothe.

Circleville lost to Chillicothe earlier in the season on the Chillicothe court. They gave the home team a tougher time Saturday night on the Chillicothe floor than they had before on their own.

But the Chillicothe squad opened its gunfire in the third period and pushed out in front to stay. Greenfield gave the home team a rough time, but Portsmouth kept grinding away and stretched their lead in every period. They had a three-point margin at the end of the half six at the third quarter and nine at the time of the final gun.

One stroke back of the leaders were Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., and Bob Rosburg, Napa, Calif.

Lions Lose at Xenia As Turnovers Costly

Playing much the same sort of basketball they used to beat Hillsboro Friday, the Washington C. H. Lions Saturday bowed to Xenia, 71-59, on the Xenia floor.

It was the second biggest margin the Lions have been beaten by this season—only New Boston mated out a severer pasting. And it came despite the fact that the Lion squad set Larry Miltstead up for 26 points—including 12 baskets and only two foul shots.

Turnovers and a low overall shooting percentage killed the Lions' hopes, as the Xenia squad turned every Lion mistake into an advantage.

In the turnover column, the Lions gave up the ball no fewer than 31 times. Three first-string squad members accounted for 17 of these.

The Washington C. H. squad shot 71 times in the game—more than they've shot in any contest all

Hawks Leading Pro Cage Loop By 8 Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The rampaging St. Louis Hawks own an imposing eight-game lead in the Western Division of the National Basketball Assn. today, thanks to their supremacy over the runnerup Cincinnati Royals.

The Hawks humbled Cincinnati 108-90 Sunday for their sixth straight victory over the Royals. The Royals have won just one game from St. Louis.

In other action, the Boston Celtics edged the Philadelphia Warriors 114-113, the Syracuse Nationals downed the New York Knickerbockers 112-108 and the Minneapolis Lakers turned back the Detroit Pistons 118-111.

Bob Pettit was the mainstay for St. Louis, clicking for 28 points and snaring 20 rebounds as St. Louis bolted to a 55-39 halftime bulge over the Royals. Clyde Lovellette topped Cincinnati with 26 points.

The Celtics overcame a 10-point deficit in the last period to pull out their verdict over Philadelphia after the Warriors had whipped Boston 116-104 Saturday night.

Frank Ramsey, Bob Cousy and Bill Sharman combined for 76 points. Neil Johnston led the Warriors with 26.

Rookie Hot Rod Hundley produced his best performance, collecting 22 points, while Minneapolis won its second in a row under new coach Johnny Kundla. The Lakers put on a fourth-quarter spurt to outscore Detroit 33-19.

season. But they made only 24 of the shots and had to settle for a 33 per cent average.

Xenia, shooting just 62 times, hit on 26 of their shots, and came out with a ratio of 42 per cent.

XENIA USED a man-to-man defense from start to finish. The Lions, searching for something that might improve their fortunes, went from a 3-2 zone to a 2-1-2 zone, and then to a 2-3 zone.

Ted Day was top scorer for the Buccaneers as he dropped in eight baskets and three foul shots for 19 points. Bernard Hutson trailed with six baskets and five shots for 17 points.

Second to Miltstead in the Lion scoring columns were Tom Swain and Jim McWilliams, who got nine points each.

Xenia had to settle for a one-point edge at the end of the first period, when classy Lion play held the score to 15-14. They succeeded in prying the lid off a little in the second frame and ended the half with a 33-26 margin.

The third quarter saw Xenia improve yet more and end with a 48-39 score. They added three more points to their margin in the final frame to draw out the 71-59 edge.

The Lions now hold a 6-5 season record. Their league record remains 4-1, putting them in a first-place tie with Wilmington.

Xenia used some juniors in the reserve game and whipped the Lion benchers, 59-39. Terry Stills scored 13 points and Buddy Lynch, 7, for the losers.

Probers Needed By Baseball Chief

CHICAGO (AP)—Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick Sunday night asserted that congressional investigators were on the wrong track when they decided to probe into baseball.

Frick made the remarks at the Chicago Baseball Writers 18th annual diamond dinner.

Obviously referring to New York congressman Emanuel Celler and Kenneth Keating, who participated in numerous congressional investigations concerning sports and who recently concluded baseball is "pure and clean," Frick said:

"It took them a helluva long time to find out what I knew from the beginning, that baseball is all right."

St. Louis (AP)—The East is the favorite in the annual National Basketball Assn. All-Star game Tuesday night but the hot St. Louis-Boston rivalry may be a factor favoring the West.

Eastern starters are Boston's flashy Bob Cousy, 6-foot-8 Dolph Schayes of Syracuse, Bill Sharman and Bill Russell of Boston, and Willie Naulls of New York.

In the West's starting lineup are Bob Pettit and Slater Martin of St. Louis; George Yardley of Detroit, the NBA's leading scorer at 27.5 points a game; Maurice Stokes of Cincinnati and Dick Gar-maker of Minneapolis.

Crucial League Game Set for Friday

By this time next week, either Jeffersonville or Bloomington will have the Fayette County League basketball championship all wrapped up.

The two teams, each with a 3 and 1 record, will battle it out for the title Friday night on the Bloomington court. Although it is Jeffersonville's "home game," it will be played at Bloomington because the larger gymnasium there can accommodate more fans—and a big turnout is expected.

Bloomington's one defeat in the league was at the hands of Madison Mills' Warriors. Jeffersonville's was to the Bloomington Bulldogs by a 45 to 43 score.

Jeffersonville's 9-5 overall season record is a little better than Bloomington's 8-7, but the outcome of Friday night title tilt is a toss-up, because anything can, and usually does, happen in crucial games of this kind.

While high school court outfits in this area have seven games slated for this week, the one at Bloomington draws the spotlight.

Next in interest will be the encounter of the two trailers in the county league race when the Warriors and the Mad Anthonys, each with a 1-3 record, meet on the Good Hope floor Friday night.

THE MAD ANTHONYS have won two of 14 games this season and the Warriors have won four of 12. The Warriors trounced the Mad Anthonys, 80-46, when the two teams met Dec. 13 and that gives them a slight edge for Friday night's game.

Jeffersonville's Tigers will be keeping in shape for their big game Friday night by taking on Port William on the Jeffersonville floor Tuesday.

The Warriors also have a game Tuesday night. They will meet the Buckskin boys on the Good Hope floor to play off a game that was postponed from Jan. 10.

The Lions of Washington C. H. High School also will be playing off a postponed game Tuesday night when they go to Westerville. The game was to have been played Dec. 3, but it was called off because of a heavy snow that day.

New Holland's Bulldogs, who lost a heartbreaker Friday night to Darby, 56-46, will be in action again next Friday night when they entertain the cage outfit from Ashville. It was only the second defeat in 12 games for the Bulldogs this season.

The other area team slated for a Friday night game is undefeated Sabina. The Golden Eagles will go to Blanchester for a Clinton County League game.

The schedule for the week is:

TUESDAY NIGHT
Port William at Jeffersonville
Madison Mills and Buckskin (at Good Hope).
Washington C. H. at Westerville.

FRIDAY NIGHT
Jeffersonville at Bloomington
Madison Mills at Good Hope
Ashville at New Holland
Sabina at Blanchester

Cincinnati Signed For $20,000 Bonus

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Washington Senators today announced the signing of bonus pitcher Bert Guenther, 20-year-old righthander from Cincinnati. Guenther reportedly received $20,000.

Ohio Cagers Grabbing Share Of College Scoring Honors

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio and the rugged Mid-American Conference are grabbing off more than a fair share of the national collegiate scoring honors this basketball season.

Out front in the country-wide scoring scrap—but hanging on by his fingernails—is Cincinnati's huge sophomore, Oscar Robertson, with 454 points and a 32.43 average for 14 games. On his heels, a hundredth of a percentage point behind, is Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain of Kansas with a 32.42 average based on 389 points for a dozen tilts.

In fourth place with 25.61 is Miami's big Wayne Embry. The Redskin hotshot has 333 for 13 games, best in the Mid-American by a shade. Leo Byrd of Marshall is fifth with a 25.58 average, and Hal Greer of the same Thundering Herd is eighth with 24.9.

That gives the Mid-American three of the nation's top 10 scorers. No other conference has more than one.

Wilmington's Quakers, Ohio's lone clean-record team, made it nine straight last week with three Mid-Ohio League conquests to practically wrap up that loop's laurels. Findlay is second with 2-1 to Wilmington's 5-0.

Miami, pacing the Mid-American with 6-0 after trimming Ohio U. and Bowling Green last week, appears ready to add the cage crown to its football championship.

Wittenberg, co-champion of the Ohio Conference gridirers, paced the loop's basketballers with 6-0 to Akron's 4-0, the Springfield Lutherans knocking Oberlin from the elite list by 81-58 to stay on top.

Ohio State, with Iowa as tonight's foe here, won its third game in a dozen starts by trimming Minnesota 95-79 Saturday. That gave the Bucks a 2-2 mark in the Big Ten, a game back of pace-setting Michigan which has 3-1. The Bucks are in a four-way tie for fourth in the tight Western Conference scrap.

Out-of-state teams were able to win only seven of 21 games with Ohio colleges last week, boosting the Buckeye record to 118 victories against 66 losses for the season in interstate play. The Ohioans have a 13,531 to 12,549 scoring edge.

Semester exams cut into this week's schedule, but 31 games are scheduled with 14 coming Saturday. The Mid-American sends Ohio U. to Toledo tonight, and Marshall to Ohio U., and Kent State to Miami, Saturday.

Other big ones are Western Kentucky at Xavier tonight; Toledo at Duquesne Wednesday; Muskingum at Wittenberg, Detroit at Bowling Green, and Morehead at Ohio U., Thursday; and Heidelberg at Akron, Wichita at Cincinnati, Bowling Green at Western Kentucky, Xavier at Toledo, and Dayton at Louisville, Saturday.

BONECUTTER was hotter than a firecracker, getting six field goals and 10 from the free throw line for a total of 22 points to take scoring honors for the evening.

The Mad Anthonys lost the game in the third period when they were outscored 21 to 10. They not only lost their 3-point-half-time advantage, but were trailing by 6 points at the start of the fourth frame.

But, they came back and tied it up at 50—all midway in the last period, only to falter in the final two minutes while the Frankfort crew was collecting 5 points—and the victory.

Frankfort's all-court press in the closing minutes of the game stopped the Mad Anthonys' final surge.

Good Hopes' reserves also lost a close one in the preliminary when they were edged, 32 to 29.

Gray, Williams Tagged Best Of Rookies in Dodger Camp

NEW YORK (AP)—Dick Gray, a third baseman who once committed five errors, almost on consecutive chances, and Stan Williams, a pitcher who one season issued 158 bases on balls, are regarded by the Los Angeles management today as the most promising of all the new Dodgers.

The 26-year-old Gray, in his sixth minor league season in 1957, had an excellent year with St. Paul, hitting .297 in 153 games. He drove in 111—third best in the American Assn.—led the third basemen in putouts, assists and total chances, and was a unanimous choice for the all-star team.

"Gray's got everything," was St. Paul manager Max Macon's recommendation to the Dodgers. "He's definitely major league material."

The slender Pennsylvanian slammed 16 home runs last year. Williams, only 21, has been pitching minor league ball for four seasons, starting with Shawnee of the Sooner State League in 1954. A strapping 6-4 righthander, he won 18 games for Newport News, striking out 301 batters.

Williams enjoyed his best season last year, winning 19 games at St. Paul. He led the A.A. in strikeouts with 223 in 246 innings and finished second in victories and innings pitched.

The Dodgers also will inspect 11 other young hopefuls including such returnees as outfielder Don Demeter, catcher Joe Pignatano, first basemen Jim Gentile and Norm Larker; shortstop Bob Lillis and pitchers Rene Valdez and Fred Kipp. Rookies up for the first time include second baseman George Anderson and pitchers Larry Sherry, Bill Harris and Rod Miller.

Anderson, 23, is a second baseman who was signed out of Dorsey High School in Los Angeles in 1952. He has moved steadily up the ladder in the Dodger organization. His .298 mark at Montreal in 1956 was his best. With Los Angeles last year, he made a clean sweep of fielding honors.

Lillis, 27, is another defensive whiz who topped all A.A. shortstops in putouts and fielding the past two seasons, both with St. Paul. He batted .259.

Demeter, Gentile and Larkin are power hitters.

Sherry, only 22, posted a 10-10 record at Fort Worth last season but led the Texas League in strikeouts with 146 in 170 innings. Kipp, 26, had a brilliant 10-6 record with Montreal in 1956.

Harris was 16-10 at Montreal. Valdez was 11-13 with the same club. Miller, the youngest at 17, was signed last year.

Ike Presents His Economic Plan

Other factors favoring a 1958 upturn are visible, he said, including:
Strong, sustained consumer demand; "very little" decline in incomes or total buying power; rising outlays by state and local governments; increased private spending on research and development; and strong business confidence, attested by the long-range programs of corporations for expansion and construction.

Summing up, Eisenhower predicted:
"As we look ahead in 1958, there are grounds for expecting that the decline in business activity need not be prolonged and that economic growth can be resumed without extended interruption."

Other official sources, more explicit than the President, said the downtrend is expected to continue until a turnaround point is reached in the April-June quarter or the July-September period.

The message repeated with me-aphor the administration's request for a higher limit on the federal debt, a one-year extension of present corporation and excise tax rates, the farm program set to the capital last week, and the new plan to aid science education.

The President urged enactment of Taft-Hartley Law amendments including a tightening of restraints on secondary boycotts and picketing - subject of a special message due later this week - and adoption of previously announced proposals to further loosen housing credit.

Other proposals - most of which were made in the earlier State of the Union and budget messages - would:

Ease the tax laws in several minor ways to benefit small business. (But any tax concessions involving substantial loss of revenue must wait until a general tax cut is possible, Eisenhower said.)

Make the Small Business Administration a permanent agency and enlarge its authorization to make business and disaster loans.
Extend the $1-an-hour minimum wage to some additional groups of workers, as provided in a pending measure.

Set up federal machinery to help cities with chronic unemployment problems.
Require large companies to notify the government before merging and otherwise tighten the antitrust laws.

Extend the trade agreements act for five years, authorize further reciprocal tariff cuts, and permit the United States to enter the proposed organization for trade

U. S. 'Hungry' For Know-How

Radio Star Reviews 'Answer, Please' Show

NEW YORK (AP)—Possibly never before have so many Americans wanted to know so much about such a great variety of subjects.

One result of the growing desire for information is the emergence of Walter Cronkite on CBS Radio in a program called "Answer, Please!" Definitely not a quiz program, it bravely undertakes to toss rubbins of knowledge to the public mind five nights a week.

The idea evolved naturally, Cronkite says, as a means of answering questions which listeners ask the year around. By the second week of the program's life letters were coming in at the rate of 6,000 weekly.

Radio is a much better means of answering questions than a TV program, says the television-seasoned Cronkite, because you can answer more questions more completely without making a production of each. Television would require a more complicated and costly operation—and the answers would be the same.

Thus far the predominating questions have concerned science in general and science in relation to world affairs.

Queries about the White House and the Eisenhower family have turned "Answer, Please!" researchers into experts on the Presidential life.

The specific questions are a clinch. But when someone asks: "Will we ever get ahead of Russia? Will we ever have war again?" Cronkite eases out of it by replying: "If I knew, I'd be working for the Pentagon instead of CBS Radio."

Ike To Help Republican Rally Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower starts his sixth year in office today and kicks off a new Republican drive for control of Congress tonight.

The 67-year-old President arranged formal observance of the anniversary at 9:30 (EST) tonight at a $100-a-plate GOP dinner in Chicago where he will be guest of honor and make a nationwide television-radio political address as the party's chief.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower scheduled an afternoon flight aboard his private plane, Columbine III.

In Chicago, the President and the First Lady will stay overnight at the Stockyard Inn near the huge International Amphitheater where tonight's dinner is being held—and where Eisenhower was nominated for a first term in July 1952.

They plan to fly back to Washington Tuesday.

Forty-four Republican dinners for an estimated 40,000 of the GOP faithful are being held tonight in 27 states and the District of Columbia. In addition to Eisenhower, speakers at the $10 to $100-a-plate affairs from coast to coast include Vice President Nixon, many other top administration officials and Republican congressional leaders.

Nixon, speaking from the New York dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, will introduce Eisenhower. The President will talk for about 10 minutes on the half hour TV-radio program being beamed to the party dinners around the country as well as to the public generally.

Probationer Gets Pen Term

Sentence Imposed For Barn-Breaking

Merle Sanders, 30, of Chillicothe was committed Saturday to a 1-to-15 year term in the Ohio Penitentiary for violation of probation in a breaking and entering case.

Sanders pleaded guilty last fall to breaking into a barn on Route 35 north, belonging to Carl Jones.

Sheriff Orland Hays, who took him into custody, said Sanders had not paid the costs in his case, and had not reported to a probation officer, as he had been ordered to do. He was ordered committed after hearing Saturday in Common Pleas Court on a complaint brought by County Prosecutor Rollo Marchant.

Judge John M. Kiracofe, Eaton, sitting here by assignment, suspended imposition of sentence against Sanders and placed him on probation. The probation order was rescinded by Judge John P. Case who heard the evidence at the hearing Saturday.

Orderly Held For Slaying Student Nurse

HAMILTON (AP)—A municipal court hearing is scheduled here today for Shirley Edward Campbell, a hospital orderly accused of slaying a student nurse who fought off his advances.

County Prosecutor Robert Marrs filed a first-degree murder charge against Campbell, 20. Marrs said Sunday the orderly had signed a written confession that he pushed the girl off the fifth floor roof of Mercy Hospital where he worked.

The victim was Miss Sylvesta Gertrude Andy, 20, a patient at the hospital where she was recovering from an abdominal infection. She fell 75 feet to a sidewalk late Friday night.

Marrs quoted Campbell saying the girl was returning to her room after getting a soft drink and resisted his advances in an elevator.

The prosecutor said Campbell told him the girl ran from the elevator at the top floor through a door to the roof, and after a rooftop struggle, the orderly picked the girl up, "threw her, and she landed on the ledge," Campbell said he ran over and "pushed her off."

Campbell, who is married, was arrested at his trailer home a few hours after the girl's death.

Marrs said Campbell had worked at the hospital about six months and is a parolee from Mansfield Reformatory. He had been committed to Boys' Industrial School as a juvenile for involvement in a taxicab robbery and later transferred to Mansfield.

Charges Withdrawn In Check Complaint

Two check charges, filed by Washington C. H. merchants against a Chillicothe man were withdrawn at the request of the prosecuting witnesses in Municipal Court Monday.

Judge Max G. Dice assessed costs against the complainants. They were Walter Hutton, operator of the Club pool room, 145 N. Main St., and Colin C. Campbell, proprietor of the Cherry Hotel, 207 N. Main St.

Campbell accused Creed Silbaugh, Chillicothe, of writing a $25 check with insufficient funds. Hutton made the same charge in connection with a $10 check.

Texas Plant Blast Fatal to 3 Men

BAYTOWN, Tex. (AP)—A thunderous explosion rocked the United Rubber & Chemical Co. plant near here Sunday, killing three men. Six others were injured.

Flames shot 100 feet into the air following the blast. A plant official blamed it on butadiene gas, which is used in making synthetic rubber. Two of the dead were buried under tons of debris somewhere in the two buildings destroyed by the blast.

The plant, located on a 47-acre site about three miles from here, is some 25 miles from Texas City where a series of ship explosions killed more than 500 in 1947.

Floyd Hoppes New President As County Board Reorganizes

Floyd M. Hoppes, who lives in Perry Township near New Martinsburg, was named president of the Fayette County Board of Education at a reorganization session held Saturday afternoon.

Hoppes succeeds Nathaniel Tway, retired board member, as president.

Eugene Avey, Jefferson Township, was elected vice president.

Both Hoppes and Avey are new members of the board, succeeding Tway and Hugh B. Sollars who were not candidates for reelection.

They, along with H. B. Lightie, Madison Township, who was re-elected in November, took the oath of office from Common Pleas Judge John P. Case.

The county board term is four years.

HOPPEs SERVED on the first Fayette County Citizens Committee and on a number of Miami Trace District study committees. He was named as a rural member of the present Citizens Committee, resigning that office to take his seat on the board.

Avey was a member of the former Jeffersonville board of education.

Other members of the county board are Cloyd C. Craig, Paint Township, who has served in his position for 22 years, and Carroll H. Ritenour, Jefferson Township. Their terms expire in 1960.

The board will continue to hold its monthly meetings on the last Saturday of each month.

18 Persons Killed In Ohio Accidents

COLUMBUS (AP)—Twelve persons were killed on Ohio highways last weekend and miscellaneous accidents, including a plane crash and a fire, swelled the fatality count to 18.

The plane crash killed three men at Dayton. Their four-seat Piper pacer crashed and burned on take-off from a private airfield.

Two elderly sisters perished in the fire near Bucyrus as their log cabin home was destroyed.

Business Notes

Statistics released by Ray J. Price, district manager of the Columbus office of Dun and Bradstreet, Inc. show that there are now 335 business firms in Fayette County and 279 firms in Washington C. H.

The figures were obtained from a physical count of the Dun and Bradstreet Reference Book for November, 1957.

The Reference Book only lists manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers. It does not include some of the service and professional businesses such as barber and beauty shops, stock and real estate brokers. Thus the figure for businesses in Fayette County would actually be higher than the 336 quoted above.

W. T. "BILL" BARRETT, former district manager at Cincinnati, has been appointed Southwest Ohio state manager of Woodman of the World Life Insurance Society.

The area which Barrett will supervise includes Auglaize, Brown, Butler, Champaign, Clermont, Clark, Clinton, Darke, Delaware, Fayette, Franklin, Greene, Hamilton, Highland, Logan, Madison, Mercer, Miami, Montgomery, Pickaway, Pike, Preble, Ross, Scioto, Shelby, Union and Warren counties.

THE JANUARY spot bid sale is now under way at the Dayton Air Force Depot, Brig. Gen. Charles A. Heim, commander, announces.

A total of 80 lots of material, surplus and obsolete, will be disposed of during this sale. These lots of material include items such as: balancing units; blowers; clamps; coil reactors; antennas; indicators; jack boxes; junction boxes; receivers; relays; resistors; test stands; transformers; transmitters; magnetron tubes; packaging material; heavy scrap metal; and one each scrubbing and polishing machine, 110 V, needing some repairs.

Property is assembled in quantities which will permit all bidders to compete on equal terms.

Individuals interested in inspecting this material may do so by contacting the Depot Disposal Division between the hours of 7:30 and 11:00 a. m., and 12 noon to 3 p. m., Monday through Friday
